

Musashi RED Programs Teaching Assistant (TA) Recruitment

Description of RED Programs: RED Programs foster a "scientific way of looking at things" based on the "The Three Founding Principles" that have lived on at Musashi since the founding of Musashi Academy. Students will learn science, the universal system of knowledge, in English, the universal language, to acquire the intelligence and culture of a global citizen. All classes will be conducted in English, and students will learn Research, Essay writing, and Discussion (RED) on scientific themes. The program is mainly for first-year junior high school students through first-year high school students, with students from Musashi High School and Junior High School accounting for 70-80% of the students, and other students from other schools in the Tokyo area. One class will have about 25-30 students, and will be taught by a teacher and several TAs.

Period: September-November 2025, January-March 2026, April-June 2026

*There will be 20 class days per semester. It is preferable that the candidate be able to work twice a week on the designated days and times throughout the above three semesters, but working for one semester is also acceptable. May be asked to renew for the next semester or the following year.

Working days: Monday and Wednesday (For lower-level classes) or Tuesday and Thursday (For upper-level classes)

17:45-20:45 (Class time: 18:30-20:30 with a one-hour meeting before and after the class, so three hours of work per day)

*In addition to the above, you may be asked to work for the Summer Program (multiple programs from the end of July to the end of August), student selection and recruiting events, or exam proctor for the TOELF ITP.
